SENATOR STEWART ON THE SITUATION.

In a private letter to a citizen of Reno, Senator Stewart says:

"During the extra session and the present session of Congress the Republicans, as a party, have stood by President Cleveland in all recommendations on financial questions. The only difficulty Mr. Cleveland has had in carrying out his policy has come from the silver States and the Democrats of the South. It is true Senator Cameron voted against the repeal of the Sherman act, and Sen. Quay voted for the seigniorage bill, but these were isolated votes.

"The record of the Democratic party, as indicated by votes in Congress, has been favorable to silver. There has been no time when, if the Democrats had been left alone, they would not have passed a free coinage bill in both Houses, except at the extra session, when a bare majority of Democrats voted to repeal the Sherman act.

"The trouble is that the Republican States of the North control both national conventions. With the aid of New York they have an absolute majority in the Democratic convention, and by the use of dummy votes from the South they have the Republican convention, except from the Silver States of the West. The utter failure of Cleveland's administration, and the hard times resulting from it, and from legislation adopting the gold standard, for which the Republicans are principally responsible, has increased the Republican vote in the local elections. In other words, the wickedness of the Republican party, when in power, brings the Democratic party into power, and the greater wickedness of the Democratic party brings the Republican party into power, and vice versa. And so the see-saw game has gone on for twenty years.

"If the silver States were for free coinage and nothing else, they could obtain it, or destroy both of the old parties. They would always have the balance of power in the Senate, and could block the schemes of the party in power until their rights were recognized. How a man can be for free silver and vote to place an enemy of free silver in the White House, where he will have the power to prevent legislation, notwithstanding a majority in Congress, is a marvel to me. The elevation of the Republican party again to power, means the gold standard, and if the victory should be decisive it also means a 'force bill.'

"I am glad to know that there is no evidence that the people of Nevada will, at the next election, turn against themselves and vote for their oppressors in either party. Nevada has succeeded, with the aid of a very few friends, in keeping the silver question before the country, and if she is true to herself she will accomplish great results and achieve victory in the end. But a declaration against silver from Nevada, which a Republican or a Democratic victory would mean, would injure the cause of silver more than the loss of any other State in the Union."

THE HEATH CASE.

A second time Dick Heath's neck has been saved from the gallows. Heath is a poor roustabout fellow without a cent to his name, yet he goes twice to trial with high price lawyers to defend him, and money flows like water to save him. This is because he was the hired assassin of wealthy men who will prevent his conviction. Whenever a jury has the sand and honesty to convict him, he will tell the whole story, and the public will know just who the rascals are behind him.

It is time that wealth on this coast was taught that it cannot hire assassins to put enemies out of the way.

If the authorities of San Jose would arrest and try the man who hired the three assassins to kill Henry Planz it would start the ball rolling, and some of the wealthy men of this State whose fortunes are steeped in murder would be brought within the reach of the law. It is time that the gallows tree bore a crop, for it has been in the language of the agriculturist "a shy grower" of late.

There are plenty of men stalking about California who's connection with dark and bloody murders are well known, but no steps are taken to try them as the law seems to bow in terror before their riches.—Mid Winter Appeal.
